A TEAM driven by Mr. Graham, drawing coal up the Cliff street grade on Saturday stopped. The weight of the coal dragged the team backwards, the driver jumped out, the wagon tipped over the embankment, dragging the horses after it, and wagon, coal and horses became entangled amidst the shrubbery.

Geo. H. Ham, chief of the advertising department C. P. R. left on Tuesday's train for Calgary. On Monday in company with Mr. Connolly and W. S. Edmiston, he drove out to Stony Plain Indian agency where the party were dined and wine by Count De Cazes. He brought back with him specimens of the tobacco growing at the agency and considered this practical test of the country's productiveness a novel advertisement for the district. He intends getting expert opinion on the sample taken when he returns to Montreal, and on account of the sandy nature of the soil in the Stony Plain district, thinks that the industry might prove profitable. Tobacco grows altogether to rank and strongly flavored on heavy soil and it is thought this light soil might produce a merchantable tobacco.

The Citizens' band has disorganized and the trustees have requested all the members to resign and return their uniforms, music and instruments to the secretary. This action was decided on by a meeting of the trustees held on Thursday night when they found several resignations in their hands to dispose of. The reason given for resigning was "lack of interest on the part of members," their hindrance to the progress of those members who by regular attendance and home practice were trying to improve their musical abilities. The trustees regret having to take this step, but the band has been gradually getting worse, and the resignation of several members compelled it upon them. The trustees will re-organize the band in time to play for the bicycle meet, the Laurier reception and the Fall show, should their services be required.

MR. R. T. D. BEECHER, who, for eight years has held a position in the H. B. Co.'s service here, has been transferred to Manitoba. He leaves on Friday morning for Winnipeg, much to the regret of his friends and the townspeople in general.

G. CARTER, who arrived from Saskatoon last week with 107 head of cattle, has disposed of the whole band to Alliston Bros., of east Edmonton. He leaves for home tomorrow by rail via Regina. His two men return by flat boat.

A COMMITTEE meeting of Reformers will be held this afternoon and a general meeting will be held to-morrow to select a committee of reception to Hon. Wilfred Laurier and decide upon whom form the reception shall take. Mr. Laurier will be here next week.

In McLeod's bay that leads out of Great Slave lake into Artillery lake are some trout of enormous size. Mr. Maltner caught one measuring over four feet in length and weighing about 45 pounds. His Indian guide, on being asked its weight, replied, "Two like that equal sack of flour." A sack of flour weighs 100 pounds, so his estimate was about 50 pounds.

A FLOW of natural gas, capable of supplying a town the size of Edmonton, has been struck at Athabasca Landing by the petroleum boring party under the supervision of Dr. Selwyn and direction of the Dominion government. Further down the Athabasca river, natural gas has come up from fissures in the rock for years, and the bubbles that rise to its surface are easily ignited. At low water these fissures, being exposed, can be lighted, and the weary traveler is often spared the necessity of cutting wood to boil his kettle by merely putting a match to them. They are easily put out, but more often they are left until the river rises and extinguishes them. The fact of such a large flow of gas being struck at a depth of 400 feet shows the amount of pressure existing in the overlying strata, and will assist the party in making calculations on the distance yet to go before oil is reached. As sand, suitable for making plate glass can be extracted from the tar sands along the river, this discovery of natural gas may, in future years, prove a boon to glass manufacturing industries.

THE Indian's estimate of the white man is gauged altogether by what he sees. He cannot form an idea of anything unseen, no matter how it is described nor how lucidly its uses are explained, hence, when in June last, Mr. Maltner, of Spokane, Wash., arrived at Fort Resolution on the Great Slave lake, in his excellent canoe, which by the bye was a Peterborough rivet bottom, a type of the finest canoe made in the world, the following narrative will be appreciated as descriptive of Indian astonishment. The Indians were returning to the Fort from their winter's hunt in their little birch bark canoes, laden with furs, and as they approached the fort in single file, a crack from the guns in the foremost canoe, followed by the Indians of the succeeding canoes, announced their approach. Fully forty canoes came in at intervals of a few minutes apart and on the following day as many more came in until the fort was crowded with over a hundred of them. Crees, Dogribs, Chipewyans from the Buffalo river, Hay river and Yellow knife districts were there, and a representative crowd they were too. Mr. Maltner's canoe seemed to be the attraction to all of them. Anything that the Indian knows something about and can use, always is; but this canoe, on account of its beauty and workmanship caused them to utter many strange ejaculations of astonishment. The steamboat they had already seen, but machinery is altogether beyond them, they don't understand, and what they don't understand they don't appreciate as being clever; but here was a canoe, built upon precisely the same principle as their own, yet so much superior. Mr. Maltner hoisted up the sail and the little skiff spun over the water sailing as straight as an arrow. That was not much of a surprise; but when it tacked and came back over the same course as it had gone, that set their minds wondering. They had never saw such a feat before. One old Indian whose expressions of surprise were more loud than the rest, on its return said to a young brave near by, "What do you think to that?" to which he replied in language, which being translated meant "Indian think white man big fool. White man no build canoe like Indian can. By and bye white man come, along with canoe that no Indian can build, and their opinion of the white man went high up in their estimation; both old and young.

SUPT. NIBLOCK and Mr. Osler of the C. & E. R. R. arrived by special train yesterday. Mr. Niblock left this morning.

THREE hundred and fifty dollars was the highest bid for the Stevens, Turner & Burns engine and Monitor separator last Saturday. There was no sale.

A charge of cruelty to animals has been preferred against H. Grimer for over-driving a horse. The case comes off to-morrow before Inspector Snyder.

MUSHROOMS are so plentiful between McLeod and Calgary that Mr. Caldwell who was driving through them for three days says he could have got waggons full.

Two eggs placed in a box in a manure pile by F. Keil by way of experiment, hatched out two chickens that are now healthy and doing well. This is a new kind of incubator.

An auction sale of farm stock, implements, etc., takes place at Mr. W. H. Underwood's farm, Poplar Lake, on Thursday, Sept. 13th., at 2 p.m. Turnbull & McAdam, auctioneers.

A DANCE was given in Robertson's hall on Friday night as a farewell to Mr. Becher who is leaving the town on Friday. A large number of Mr. Becher's friends were present, a most recherche repast was provided, the ladies contributed the music, playing in turns, and a most pleasant evening was enjoyed.

NAGLE and party left Fort Chipewyan, on their way from Fort Resolution to Edmonton, on August 8th. The waters of the Athabasca are rising and the party, with ordinary luck, should have been here a week ago. He is bringing with him fifty-three packs of furs. Bishop Young, who missed the last trip of the S. S. Grahame from Fort Chipewyan, is also with them.

The most severe wind storm that has occurred here in twenty years, accompanied with a heavy shower of rain passed over the town on Saturday afternoon and lasted about twenty minutes. Some of the tin plating on the Queen's hotel and the flag staff were blown away. The shingles off old roofs were scattered in all directions and the grand stand at the race course was levelled with the ground.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, August 29th.

Prince asked whether the executive committee had taken into its consideration the various complaints lodged on behalf of the Roman Catholic minority in matters relative to schools. It was evident, that the Federal government desired some taxation should be made.

Haultain replied that the executive would make such changes as might be found necessary.

Prince moved for a return showing copy of the resolution of the Roman Catholic section of the late board of education prescribing Buckley & Robertson's histories of England and Canada as a text book for use in schools then under its control. He said that in answer to a certain petition presented by Bishop Grandin, it was said that the Roman Catholic section had agreed to the regulations. He understood that this was denied hence the request.

Clingskill seconded the motion. Betts moved the following: Whereas the Normal sessions conducted during the past year have caused serious inconvenience to many teachers, and whereas the answer given by the executive committee to a question from the honorable member for St. Albert, respecting these schools, was not entirely satisfactory to the House.

Therefore be it resolved that, in the opinion of this House, Normal sessions for third class certificates should be held at Moosomin, Regina, Prince Albert, Calgary and Edmonton, for second-class certificates at Regina and Calgary and for first-class certificates at Regina.

Haultain said, that before asking the House to pass a motion of that kind, reliable information in support of the statements, made should be given. In all Saskatchewan there were but five who were entitled to attend such session, the matter therefore resolved itself into a question of means, men and money. The people and part of the press seemed to have taken a wrong view of this question. The main object was to provide qualified teachers. The matter should therefore be considered from the standpoint of the people rather than from that of the teachers. Two weeks ago, when the matter came up, the examinations were not over and the executive could not say how many would be in a position to seek training. The answers which he then gave, that sessions would be held wherever the number of pupils offering would warrant it, was quite as far as he then could go. In the whole of Assiniboia there were but 19 eligible second-class candidates and 33 thirds; in Alberta, 5 and 13; in Saskatchewan, 3 and 6. These were all that could possibly attend and there was no certainty that all of them would attend, or that they were now in the country. These were the figures upon which the House was now asked to order that sessions be held in certain localities. The holding of a normal session, meant the taking up the time of two men. An inspector had to be in constant attendance, and the Superintendent would be called upon to review. This would cost between $500 and $600, or say $100 for each candidate. Was it advisable to order this done or to leave it to the executive? It was well enough for the House to lay down general rules, but it should not assume the functions which were clearly within the province of the executive.

Mitchell thought that after the explanations of Mr. Haultain the whole matter was quite clear. He moved that an amendment to the effect that whenever seven candidates were found in any of the places named in the resolution a 3rd class normal session should be held in Regina and Calgary whenever practicable.

Insinger moved that Yorkton and Saltcoats be added to the list of places. It had been said that there were only three eligible candidates north of Red Deer, and if this were so, the town in Wallace had certainly as good a right as Edmonton.

Oliver pointed out that there was a vast difference between the Wallace and Edmonton districts in respect to trained teachers. In Wallace teachers could be had from the province of Manitoba immediately adjoining they being admissible under the existing regulations.

Haultain said that only places prepared to furnish necessary accommodation could in any case have normal sessions.

Insinger withdrew his amendment. Betts said he also would withdraw his motion in favor of that of Mr. Mitchell. He did not wish to provoke any disruption in the executive. Mr. Haultain had objected to definite instructions, and his colleague had now moved a resolution more definite than that proposed by him (Mr. Betts).

Mr. Speaker. Do you withdraw Mr. Betts?

Mr. Betts. Yes.

Mr. Speaker. Mr. Betts has withdrawn his motion and therefore the amendment to it falls through, (laughter.)

Mr. Betts. My withdrawal was conditional that Mr. Mitchell would bring his amendment as an original motion.

Mr. Mitchell did so at the request of Mr. Betts and by leave of the House reduced the number of candidates necessary to holding a session to 6.

The motion then carried.

GENERAL NEWS.

The world's bicycle record for five miles was reduced to 12.11 by M. Scott Plainfield at Asbury Park on the 1st inst.

Medicine Hat bicycle races will be held on Sept. 11th. Marshall Wells, the Canadian champion has announced that he cannot attend owing to an accident.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and sons passed through Battleford last week on their way to Edmonton. They had three wagon loads of household effects and thirty-five head of cattle. They came from Qu'Appelle. They thought Battleford would have suited them, but as some of their children had settled at Edmonton they would push on and locate on the land their sons had selected for them. They crossed on the ferry here, as they would have plenty of camping and water for their stock along the route. Mr. McDonald, druggist, of Saskatoon, is one of this family.—Battleford Herald.

An annual grant of $200 is made to the Winnipeg general hospital by the C. P. R. The corner stone of the Calgary general Hospital was placed in position by Hon. T. Mayne Daly last week. Speeches were made by Mr. Connolly, Dublin Ireland, Senator Loughheed, Mayor Orr and others.

The 90th rifles of Winnipeg contribute $1000 to the band of the regiment. It is proposed to ask the citizens for $1000 more when it is thought Winnipeg may then secure the services of a good band.

A photograph of the Grand falls on the Hamilton river in Labrador has been taken by two explorers, Messrs Low and Eaton after a sixteen months trip. The falls are 800 feet deep and six miles in width, completely eclipsing the Niagara. These falls have long been known; but is the first photograph taken.

The steamer Northwest arrived from Prince Albert on Thursday evening and left for Pitt on Friday. She had about a thousand sacks of flour, some oats and a quantity of oats for Battleford, and a quantity of flour and oats for Pitt and a threshing machine and other agricultural stock for the Indian Department at Onion Lake. There is a good stage of water in the river.—Battleford Herald.

Rev. Mr. Munro, of South Edmonton, arrived in the city last evening and will go to Fort McLeod to attend a meeting of the presbytery. Through his instrumentality the Pine Creek church was built, and several other churches in the south country, and now he is busy preparing to build an edifice at South Edmonton. He deserves credit for his energy, and it is to be hoped he may be able to raise the necessary in his northern home.—Calgary Tribune.

THE ARBITRATION.

Frank Marriaggi sworn said. I am a hotel keeper here and have been in Manitoba and the Northwest 22 years. I have done real estate business. If there is a trail through by Cameron's and along the brow of the hill, I think the opening of McDougall street would lessen the value of block X. As a hotel keeper, I think the block X with two other lots is worth $1800. The pink block, I value at $50 more than the other lots. I base my valuation upon what I believe the front lots to be worth on Jasper avenue. I believe each of them to be worth $1500 to $1800 each. If lot 1 and the 16 feet was a street, the pink block would be increased in value. If I owned those three lots under these circumstances I would not sell them for $3000. I do not think they are worth that in the market.

Cross-examined by Mr. Emery. I would not purchase the pink block alone at all without the trail. Lots 2, 3 and 4 would be just as valuable as 1, 2 and 3 for a hotel. It would be an advantage to have the pink block open so that no one could build there. McDougall street open, providing I had lots 2, 3 and 4 would make the hotel property more valuable. It is an advantage to have two streets. Each lot would be improved $250 or as a block it is worth $750 more by reason of the street to me. I think there is a good opening for a large and good hotel and I think the property in dispute is a good site. If I owned the pink block and block X, I would not give the pink block as a street because the new street would take the traffic from the other lots along the trail. Without a trail McDougall street is a direct benefit to block X. If I could not have an outlet by Cameron's I would give the pink block to make a street. If the trail runs as per exhibit "Q" McDougall street is a benefit to block X.

P. Heiminek recalled says. The signature to letter produced is S. S. Taylor's letter. Copy of parts referring to matters submitted, filed as exhibit "Q".

Q. Who is the owner of the 56 feet between Daly's and Cameron's?

Objected to by Mr. Emery.

A. McDougall would be the owner as I understand it. The property is in my name. The money would go to McDougall if it were sold.

Cross-examined by Mr. Emery. I bought from Lafferty & Moore. I may say John Cameron as to 25 feet. In the same agreement I bought some other right he claimed to the 31 feet next to Daly's running to the river. Cameron bought from Jessie Lafferty and Elizabeth Moore. They brought from Roberts in Winnipeg. All these sales are under agreement. There is no transfer yet. There is a written agreement between David McDougall and myself. It was signed in July, perhaps August. I would give it back to McDougall for his note or promise to pay for the interest I have in it.

George Sanderson who has been here 13 years says he always thought there was a trail along the hill across river lot 8. It has always been travelled. The trail was surveyed by Kippen, surveyor. It ran across the northwest corner of lots A. R. L. 10, then in front of Villers & Pearson, warehouse in front of the log store of Villers & Pearson known as Cameron's old store. The telegraph pole near Daly's store would be the most westerly boundary of the trail. It is used now as a public highway, and never has been fenced in or blocked. Block X and the pink block with the trail is worth $10000. I would prefer to have the street opened by the trail. With a trail, the property would not benefit by opening McDougall street. It would depreciate block X. I think $1000 to $1200 should be paid for the pink block.

Cross-examined by Mr. Emery. I think the eastern boundary would run 10 to 12 feet into the store, and 6 feet from the eastern side of the store. The trail located was 80 feet wide, I think. This plan was not registered to my knowledge. The whole of the vacant space except a piece by Daly's store form part of the old trail.

Geo. Roy recalled says. Patent of river lot 6 produced shows trail reservation. Patent dated Jan. 22nd, 1886. Patent of river lot 8 produced showing trail reservation 66 feet wide.

J. B. Spurr sworn said. I am publisher, now brick manufacturer, and have purchased real estate. With the trail, block X and the pink block are worth $25 to $30 per foot. The value would depend upon its nearness to Jasper Avenue to a large extent. The opening of McDougall street would not improve block X if the trail were in existence on account of it diverting the traffic, a fair compensation for the pink block piece it being made a street would be $30 per foot.

Cross-examined by Mr. Emery. I would require the trail to run in a straight course from "d" to "a". I would value the whole block as before, $25 to $30 per foot frontage. In practice towns business follows the main street, but where there is a lake or river front it differs. On McDougall street I would value the lots at $18 per foot. I would still value lots near Cameron's at $25 per foot. The most advantageous subdivision of block X with McDougall street opened would be to maintain the subdivision on the trail, also the trail, also the division on McDougall street as to portion next to the lane. With no trail and no street except College avenue and Ross grade it is worth $7 to $8 per foot along the hill, not considering that I could get an outlet. I would give $2000 to get out between Daly's and Cameron's.

By Mr. Bown. If I got the outlet the value would be as before $25 to $30 per foot.

W. Fielders said he knew the property. The pink block was worth $2000 and the town should give $1500. McDougall street would benefit lot 2 in block X $500. I would lay lots out on the trail.

W. G. Dickson sworn said. I am a real estate agent and have heard of different sales here. With the trail fronting block X it is worth $20 to $25 per foot. Lots 1, 2, 3, are more valuable than those near Cameron's. I value the pink block with trail at $2000. The opening of McDougall street improves block X one third. It gives it another frontage.

Cross-examined by Mr. Emery. The increase to block X is $5000 by the opening of McDougall street.

Meeting resumed at 8 p. m.

A. G. Randall, called said. I am the town assessor. Produces assessment roll of 1894. Block X, the pink block and block

Y are assessed at $500. I would value block X and the pink block at $3000. The matter of an outlet was never considered in the assessment. I have had experience in valuing Edmonton property as assessor. Block X with no outlet except by College avenue is worth $3000. The opening of McDougall street would, without a trail increase the value of block X. I value frontage on McDougall street at $30 per foot. The increase to block X is more than the X plus the pink without McDougall street. It increases block X one hundred per cent. If a trail exists, still the opening of McDougall street increases block X more than the value of the pink block taken. I would divide it so as to preserve the frontage on the trail and at the same time have a tier of lots on McDougall street. This gives more lots and a better subdivision.

Re-examined by Mr. Bown. With no McDougall street and a trail, I would value lots on trail at $30 per foot. The assessment was appealed against in 1893 but not this year.

Resumed at 8 p. m. Thursday to take evidence of P. Daly. He said I have made a valuation of what the town should give before these proceedings commenced. My valuation was $1000 of the pink block and was as correct a valuation as I could make at the time. I value block X and the pink block with a trail only at $7000. I made the value first relied on considering the trail to exist. At the time I made the valuation for the town, I put the pink block and block X at $16000. Opening the new street directs traffic from the trail and decreases the value of block X.

Mr. Daly was cross-examined by Mr. Emery in which he said. With McDougall street open and the trail in dispute I would give for block X $3500 and would then deduct the value of the pink block, leaving the value of block X alone $3000. McDougall street with two sides built up would be equal to business lots on the trail.

This brought the arbitration to a close. Mr. Emery and Mr. Bown summed up the matter before the arbitrators on Thursday night. Their award is expected to-day.

Editors of newspapers throughout England have been appealed to through a circular signed by 105 members of the House of Commons, asking them to cease to demoralize the people by reporting sensational cases of immorality or brutality and in other ways appealing to the sensual nature of man.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Hamilton Spectator says: "Dr. Selwyn brought home with him samples of the Ladoga wheat that has been distributed so extensively in the Northwest from the experimental farm. The samples of wheat he brought were cut at Sturgeon river, north of Edmonton, Alberta, on August 16th, the most northern wheat growing district in Canada." It may interest the Spectator to know that some of the finest wheat shown at the World's fair grew in the Peace river district 300 miles north of Sturgeon river.

Toronto fair was opened on Tuesday last by Sir John Thompson. In the C. P. R. buildings a large consignment of exhibits, principally agricultural products, showing the fertility and resources of the Northwest were neatly arranged. Outside the building, on the east side, a large white screen is put up with a stand at some little distance, for the purpose of giving stereoscopic views in an illustrated series of lectures to be given each evening on "Life in the Northwest," with a view of familiarizing people with the products and opportunities of the country.

FROM THE BARREN LANDS.
Mr. Malterner of Spokane, Wash., returned from his trip to the Barren lands on Friday night. He left Edmonton on April 28th with Mrs. Burrell, a companion hunter and explorer also from Spokane. They took with them two excellent canoes and provisions for six months, together with other necessities for the journey. In passing over the seventy mile of rapids on the Athabasca river between the Landing and Fort Chipewyan, the canoes, in which Mr. Burrell was seated, capsized. Several articles belonging to Mr. Malterner were lost, as indeed were most of the provisions and camping paraphernalia. The canoe was so hopelessly wrecked as to compel Mr. Burrell to return after proceeding as far as Fort Chipewyan, which fort was reached with difficulty. Mr. Malterner continued by canoe to Fort Resolution on Great Slave Lake and here took an Indian guide to the Barren lands, the home of the musk ox and reindeer or caribou.

The Barren lands are about 250 miles from Fort Resolution. About 100 miles further, at a lake called Clinton Golden, the musk ox are to be found.
At Lockhart portage, Gordon Cummings and Harry Munn, hearing that a white man was to follow in their direction, left a letter requesting Malterner to press on and overtake them. Mr. Malterner received the letter three days afterwards; but not knowing Gordon Cummings, thought he might be an explorer or miner, little thinking that he was on a similar trip as himself. When last seen, Gordon Cummings was wearing a shoe on one foot and a moccasin on the other.

On arriving at McLeod's lake, June 28th, they were stopped by ice and were obliged to wait ten days until the ice broke up. They then crossed the 20 miles of portage that goes into Artillery lake, and here, on the 17th day of July, they came across ice, very strong, some of it still covered with white snow. They continued on to the west side of Artillery lake where there is a little timber, and continued on until they came to Gordon Cummings and party's boat, which was tied up where the party had set out on the inland trip. The Cummings party had had rations for about two months; but it is not likely that they would risk being away from their boat more than six weeks as there is no possibility of getting food when the supply taken runs out. More or less delay is apt to occur from unforeseen circumstances and every allowance for such must be made.

Mr. Malterner here found that the delay caused by the ice, and the supplies running short would not permit him to travel a hundred miles into the barren lands with safety; he, with his Indian guide therefore turned back.

He describes the barren lands as exceedingly rocky and very difficult to travel in. The rocks and ground are covered with lichen, which, when dry is hard and as beautiful as coral; but when wet is quite soft and spongy like. This moss is the food of the reindeer or caribou and is the source of numbers of mosquitoes and flies.

The deer had evidently only proceeded them a short time as several wolves of a grizzly brown color, differing from a timber wolf and the coyote were seen. These wolves follow up the caribou when they go north and were an indication that the deer were not far away.

Fur bearing animals are exceedingly rare. The beaver is not found much nearer than Fort Resolution district, the wood buffalo live in a southwesterly direction and bears are very seldom seen. On July 16th a large bear was killed with fur in perfect season and just as bruin had come out his winter quarters. Mr. Malterner brought the skin with him and found it very useful in his after trips to sleep upon. Mr. McKinley of the Hudson's Bay Co.'s store at Fort Resolution considered it a very fine one. The fact of this bear being shot in such a latitude with fur in season on July 14th, shows how very long these animals are able to live without food from the time they hibernate in the fall. The only other animal seen up there was the red squirrel which is seen as far north as there is a spruce tree.

Several ptarmigan were shot in summer plumage, dark brown feathers with white tipped wings. Other birds noticed were loons, of which there were three varieties, a few geese and very few ducks.

Mr. Malterner left Fort Resolution on July 27th and passed Nagel and party, on their way to Edmonton, at Fort Chipewyan on August 8th. He left his outfit with them to bring in their boats and went ahead alone by canoe. He had a difficult journey up the rapids, drawing his canoe by hand up river. He waited three days, hoping that the Nagel party would overtake him; but so far nothing further has been heard from them. Teams have been sent out to Athabasca landing to bring them in on their arrival there.

The mineralogy of the barren lands and the country surrounding it is almost unknown; but Mr. Malterner is not of the opinion that it is very rich in minerals. Wherever there were indications he panned for gold; but found none between Grand Rapids and Artillery lake. Near Fond du Lac he found large veins of quartz; but so far as he could see, none of it was gold bearing. He brought with him copper and iron specimens which he purposes sending to his brother, an analyst, to be assayed. He thinks there may be a little gold in them. A great deal of mica of good quality; but only in small quantities of about eight inches square was found in the rocks.

It is the intention of Mr. Malterner to wait here for the arrival of the Nagel party and then proceed to Spokane.

A FUTURE INDUSTRY.
Coal tar pitch, which, twenty-five years ago was a new factor in the commercial world, is being found to be more valuable every day. It now enters extensively into the manufacture of carbons for electric lighting and though various substitutes have been tried, they have so far proved unsuccessful. For roofing purposes it is unsurpassed even by tin or iron, and this, not because of its cheapness; but because metal roofs disjoin and fall to pieces from the action of heat in case of fire, while the pitch roofs fall down bodily and tend to smother the flames. In Germany it is used in the manufacture of pipes for the conveyance of cold acids in chemical works and also for lining acid holders. Underground pipes are coated with it to prevent rust and corrosion, and boat bottoms are coated with it to preserve the timber and give it a smooth surface. The greatest commercial value to the people of Alberta and Athabasca, however, lies in the manufacture of patent fuel. This fuel is made of hard or soft coal dust mixed with 10 per cent. of pitch and pressed into egg shaped pecturing purposes is already so pronounced that factories for its production are springing up in various parts of the United States where the conditions are suitable. This industry will undoubtedly give great impetus to the pitch market. Even the dust and screenings of the mines can be converted into as valuable a fuel as hard coal, while many grades of western coal can be rendered bituminous by the use of pitch as a binder. All the indications are that the demand for the new fuel will go on increasing. In England its manufacture and sale has already reached large proportions. Besides those uses already referred to, there are hundreds of avenues, some of them individually small; but large in the aggregate, for the consumption of pitch. Taken altogether, the outlook for this valuable product of coal tar is very promising. The benefits to be derived from manufacturing patent fuel at Edmonton, where coal is plentiful, also coal tar from which pitch could be made and brought to town, would be the concentration of purposes whereby the fuel could be shipped. Being easier to handle; containing more bitumen, than even hard coal; throwing out more heat from a smaller volume of material; each briquette being equal in size, being readily measurable, and causing no waste in shipment, are reasons sufficient to speculate upon what this industry eventually means to the people of this northern town. Already the shippers of coal find the distance to a large market prohibitive on account of the freight rates; but with an increased value of the products shipped and the same rate per tonnage given to distant points as is given on coal, a large and profitable business must eventually spring up.

The meeting to select grain standards for Eastern Canada will be held in Toronto on Sept. 14. No delegates have been appointed from Manitoba and the Territories to be present at this meeting, although delegates from Montreal and Toronto are sent to the Manitoba standards meeting, entailing considerable expense which the grain trade and Patrons of Industry in the west hold is quite unnecessary and uncalled for.

Mr. Fielder has a novelty in his house which is much admired by visitors to his place. In the parlor is practically a bee hive connected with the outside world by a passage way through which the little workers come and go. As the hive is walled with glass the whole work of the little toilers is visible to persons in the parlor. The bees are watched in their work from the time they arrive with a load until they depart again, unimpaired of the criticisms of the spectators in the parlor. Portage la Prairie Review.

By an act recently passed by the Dominion Parliament, magistrates are compelled to try children under sixteen years of age without publicity, separately and apart from the trials of other accused persons. Such offenders are also to be confined in separate apartments, and kept entirely free from association with adult prisoners. When the child is under fourteen years, it is required that notice shall be served on the executive officer of the Children's Aid Society in order that he may investigate the cause of the offence and the home treatment of the child. The magistrate may then, instead of proceeding with the formal trial and sentencing of the offender, hand him over to the guardianship of the Children's Aid Society to be brought up under their care. Such a reform was greatly needed, and must do much to prevent the growth of the criminal class.
